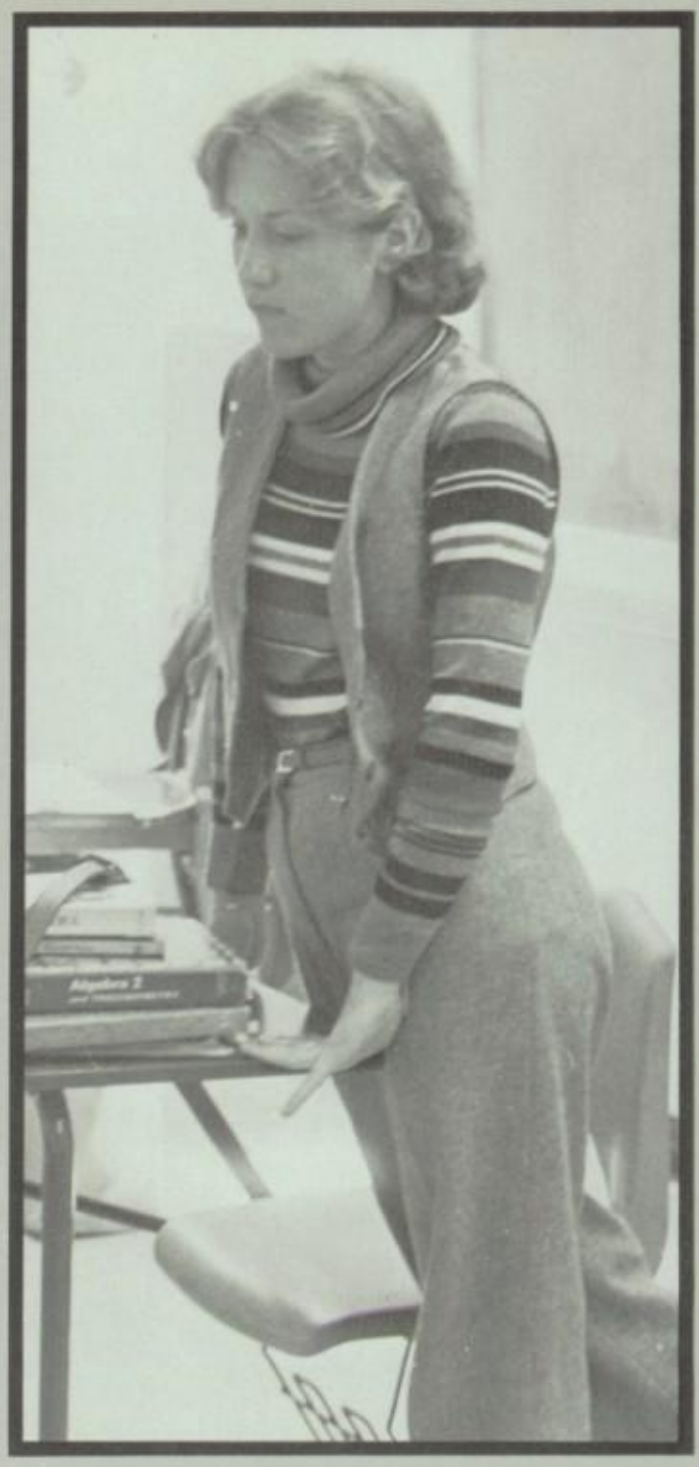
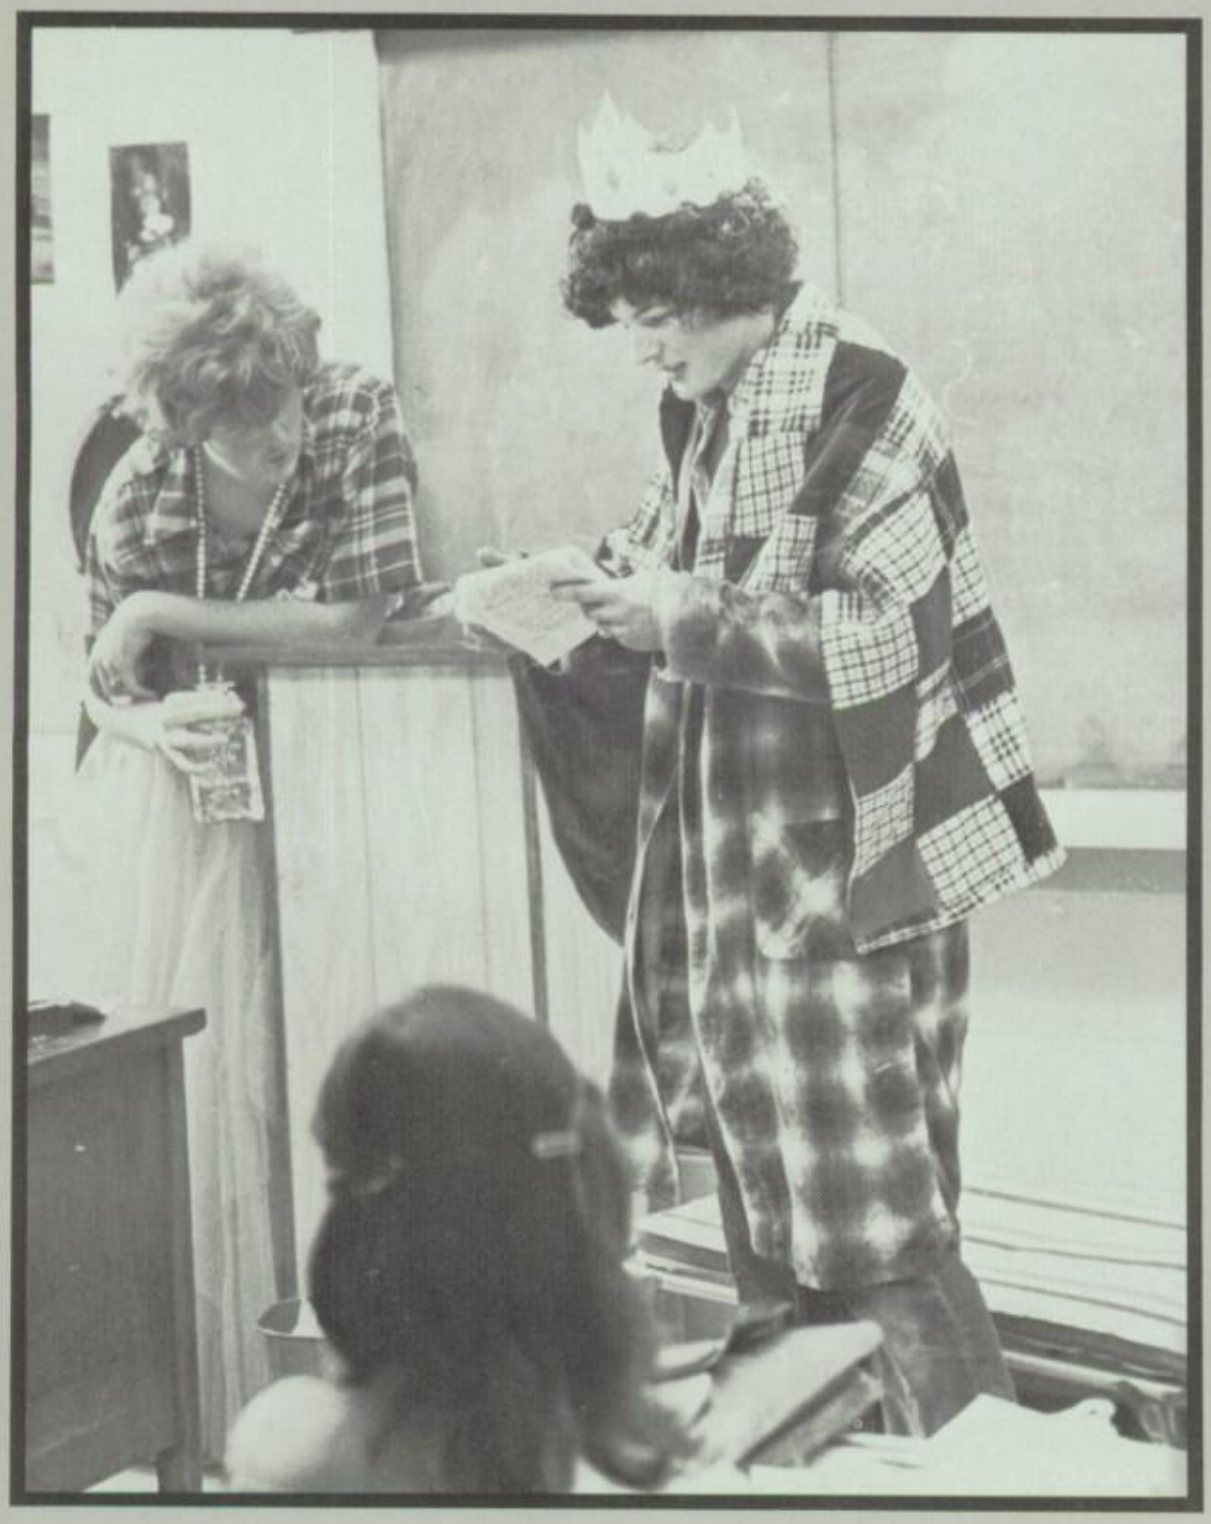
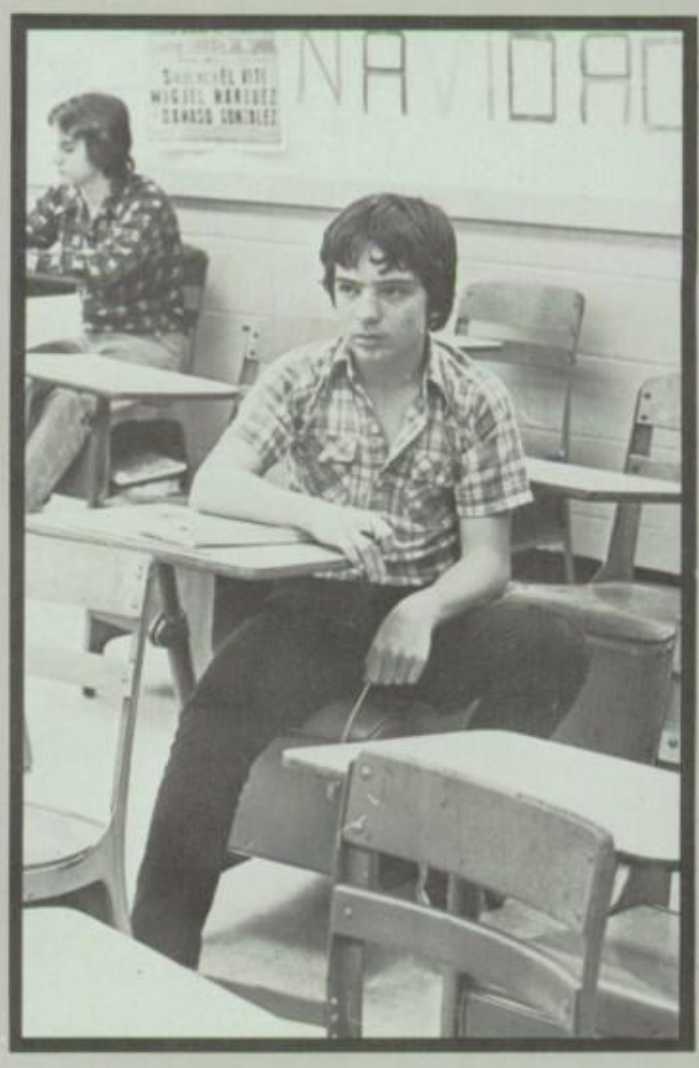
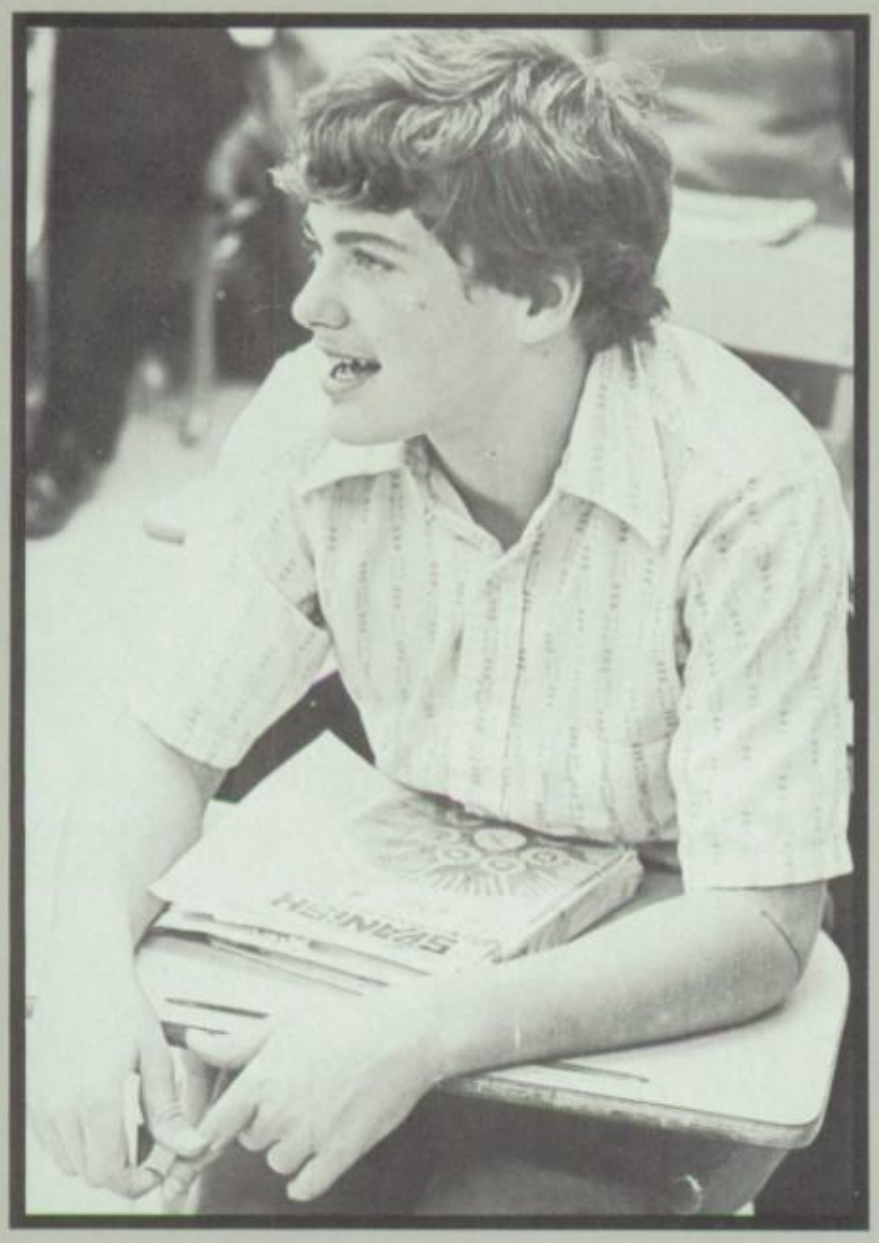
YESTERDAY'S MEMORIES, TOMORROW'S CHALLENGES

Leaving the walls to rest
And the voices silenced.
Laughter rolls throughout our hearts
As we pass this way once again,
But when time ends the journey
We will recall the endless hours
Of love spent to make each day —
A little better than the one before it.
Hours spent up late at night
And minutes in class,
Challenging our brains and muscles to a duel,
Sometimes we win, sometimes we lose,
But the duel is never without an opponent.
Tomorrow's challenges might come from here once again
Others from out of town places
And some in our own homes
But none could be as special to us
Than those spent here at the building blocks
Where we learned to be us for ourselves.









·N-SA (Both Now and Again)

As we shared our birthdays
One by one,
With cake and soft drinks,
Wishes from friends,
Of joy for now and passing years.

The homework we shared
Both now and again,
Times we worked all night,
Others when we found no relief,
Wishing for the morning to arrive
But upon its arrival,
We dreaded the thought
Of the upcoming subject we had studied for.

Sports that we watched
On weeknights and weekends,
With our best friends participating in all of them,
Losing sometimes as the odds must be,
But at other times being undefeated
Like no one could have ever imagined us to be.

The summer ends us,
Graduations kill us,
Separating us from our dearest friends,
And dear loves
Whom we love the most,
And creating more friends
As the fall bring us
Both now and again.

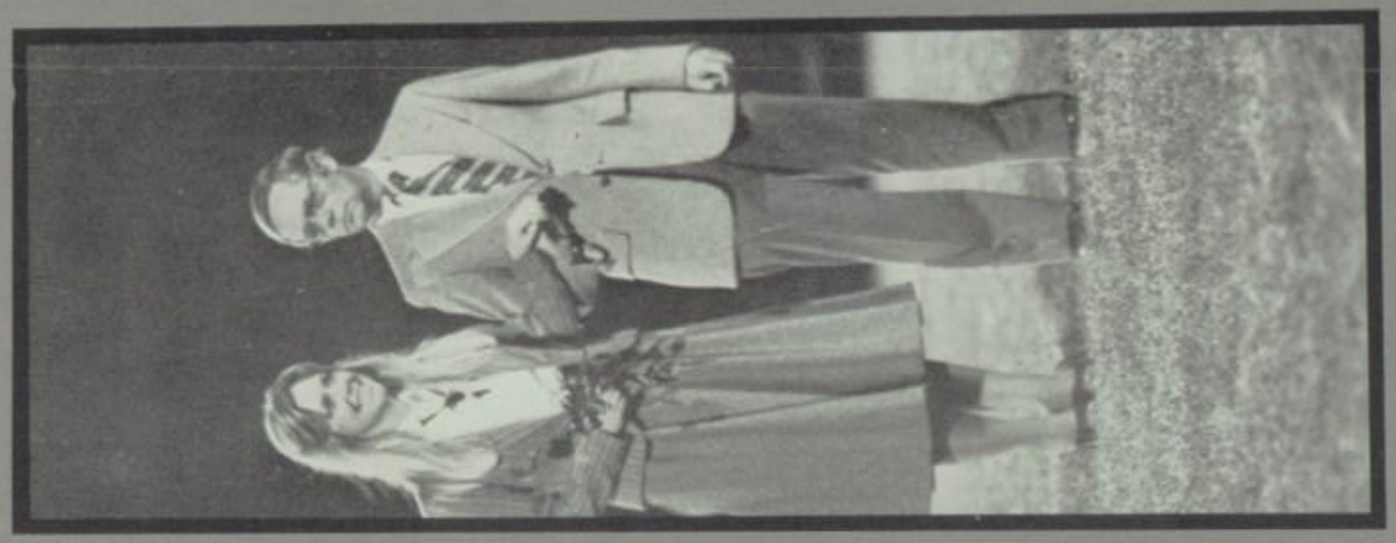
STUDENT LIFE



The 78 Prom was a real adventure for both the Juniors and Seniors. "Sail Away" brought the Junior class together to make a memorable prom for all. While dancing to the music of the Artistics couples could travel from sunrise to sunset past the elaborate dock, pier and Captain's quarters. But no matter where you went the light house was always there to shine the way. The Prom of '78 will always be remembered as a unique trip unlike any other seen by prom-goers.

"SAIL AWAY" A VOYAGE

Conversation varies, but all centers around fun.

Even Jay Howell and Brenda Cobb can not help but admire the lighthouse.

Hard working Bonnie Harry receives a plant for her help.

Dianne Bradshaw and date do their thing to the music of the Artistics.

TRAVELED BY THE 78 JRS. & SRS.

Everyone centers around the lighthouse to get into the mood.

Jr. President Amy Goldman presents the escorted Seniors with tokens.

During a band break everyone seems to be having the time of their lives.

N-SA '78

Field Day always brings a lot of fun to the patrons and their families and much needed money to our school. Everyone takes part in the activities, from board members to kindergarten students. The classes make all the projects worthwhile, and with the help of many mothers the gym housed many shops. Thanks to the participation of everyone involved Field Day '78 was a great success and a lot of fun!

The cake walk brings lots of money for the sophomores.

SPIRIT; FOOTBALL; FUN —

Susan Patty — 10th grade repres.

Tali Debnam — Jr. repres.

Ann Collins Harrell —8th grade repres.

The week before Homecoming was filled with many activities such as "Spirit Week" which included days of bums, cowboys, and Indians. On Friday each student came prepared to cheer at the pep rally. Mr. and Mrs. Spirit were Dianne Bradshaw and Tommy Davies.

Homecoming began at 7:30 when the floats rounded the field. Those classes that placed were: 1st — Freshmen; 2nd — Juniors; 3rd — Sophomores.

Halftime was the highlight of the night when the crowning of the queen took place. Each class attendant was escorted down the field by their father.

The attendants were from the eighth grade, Ann Collins Harrell, and Lisa Eure; ninth grade, Donna Copeland and Teresa Compton; tenth grade, Jan Edmonson and Susan Patty; eleventh grade, Pixie Presson, Tali Debnam and Melissa Darden; twelfth grade, Mary Stroud, Diane Sessoms, Betsy Beard, and Melanie Allen. Mary Stroud was crowned queen and Pixie Presson was Maid of Honor.

A TASTE OF CULTURE

The Japanese Kabouki Players gave a performance to the lowerschool

Mr. Binford shows the art students how to make jewelry.

There were many firsts in the Cultural Enrichment program this year directed by Sue Draper and Carol Frohman. The new programs, as well as those that made return performances, were fun and enjoyable as well as being a fine learning experience. For the first year there was a poet in the program and there was a full program of Visual Arts including sculpturing, ceramic making, painting, and jewelry making.

The Cultural Enrichment program sold many hats and shirts at Field Day to raise money.

The lowerschool art teacher makes a piece of jewelry, which is a hobby of his.

The N-SA Upper and Lower school provides an education for over 900 students.

THE EVERCHANGING

The football field was a sight of many victories and finally the championship.

The outdoor classroom provides a change of pace during the warmer days.

New lights on the tennis courts allow more hours of play.

The lower school playground is a place of fun for many kids.

LANDSCAPE OF N-SA

The new track will help the track program grow

The many acres surrounding Nansemond-Suffolk Academy develop with bright, new changes each year. New and better athletic facilities allow the athletic program to become the best in the state. A superb track has been added so the track program may continue to grow. New lights on the tennis courts allow tennis matches to be played after dark. Amidst the other changes, bleachers have been added to the visitors' side of the football field. A building has been built in the area of the football field which contains several needed facilities and storage area. Among these things, outstanding softball and baseball fields, nature trails and excellent playgrounds continue to enhance the beauty of the campus.

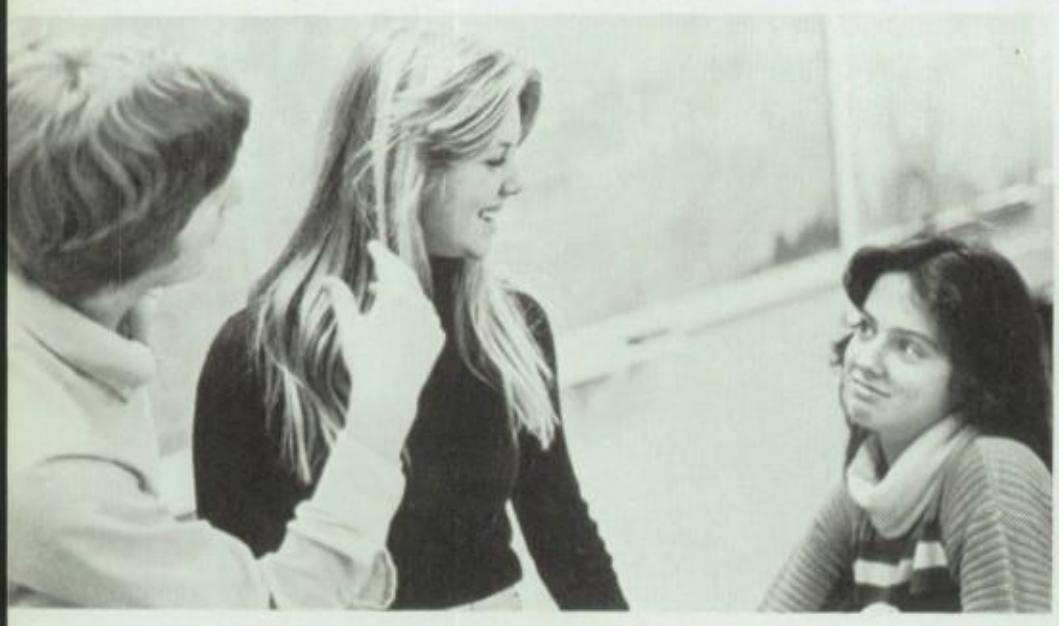
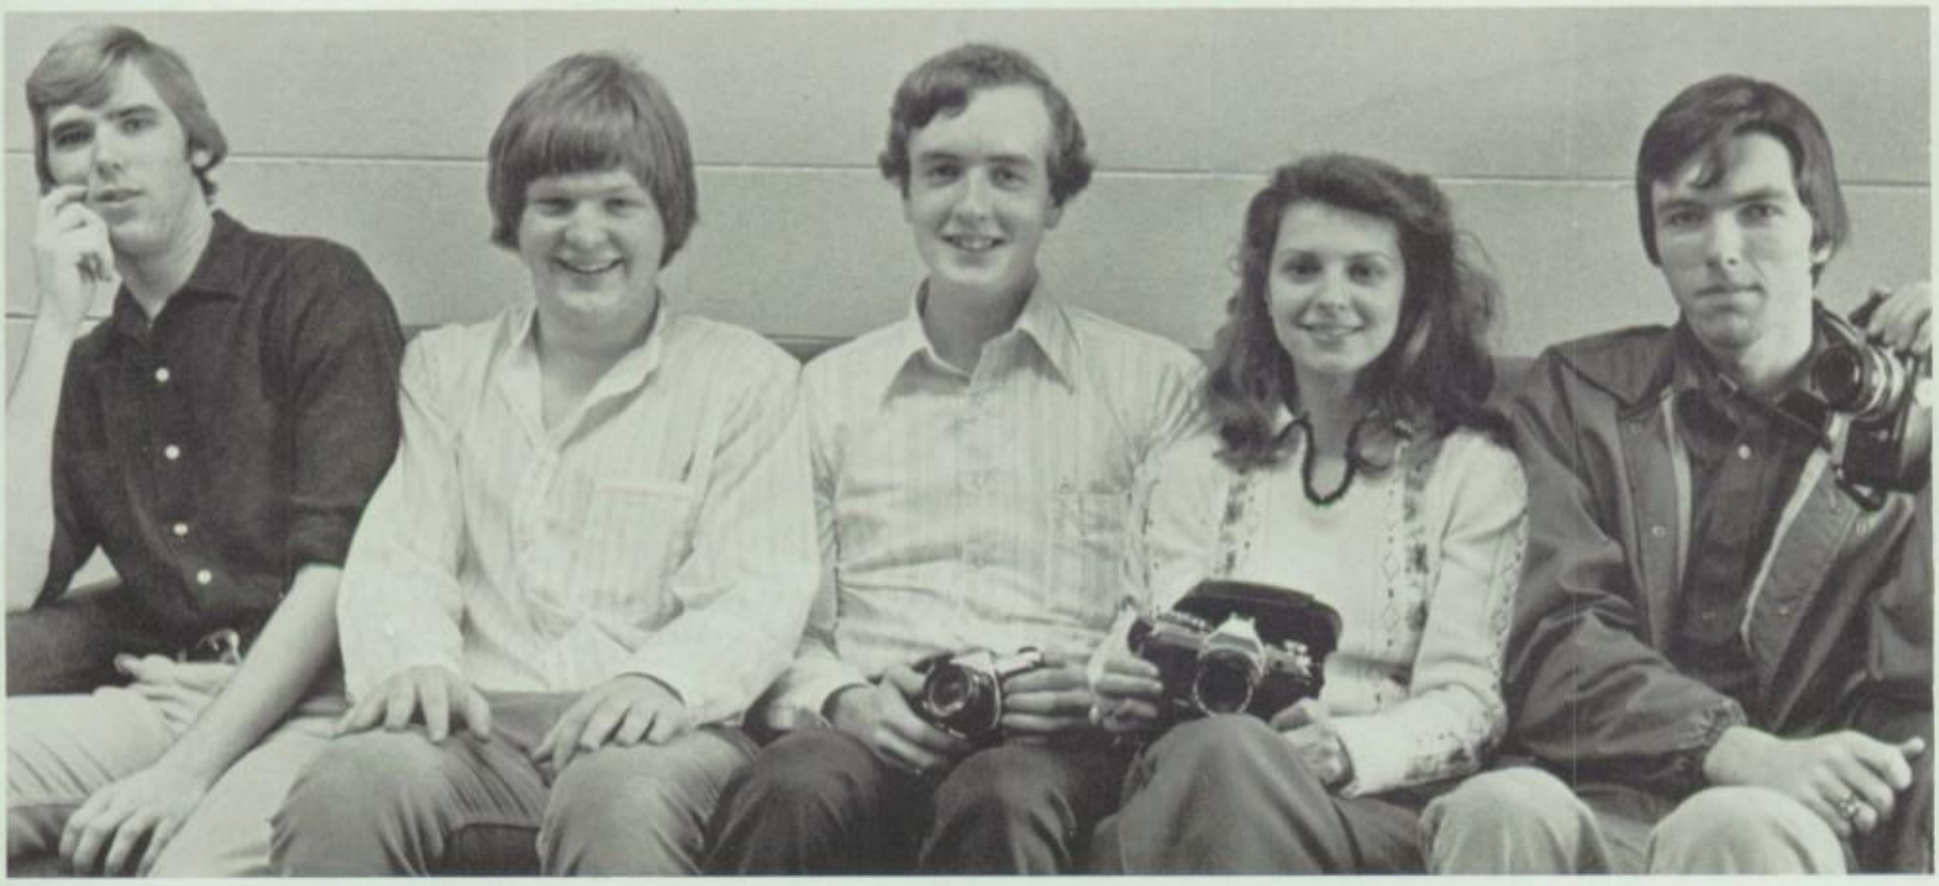
NEWSPAPER STAFF



The newspaper staff has been busily working on publishing monthly issues. News features, and sports are all covered in the "Academy Press." The staff had to learn many new things about putting out a newspaper. But the layout-making, headline-fitting, and proofreading all became worthwhile when the issues came out.

ANNUAL STAFF



The Photographers of 1979

The annual staff works hard every year to put out an annual the school will like. This year with the help of Mrs. Bryant the Sponsor and the Editor Cindy Brothers the staff has worked together to combine all the school activities, sports and events into pages filled with memories. With the help, also, of the photographers the goal was accomplished.

The Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian organization composed of boys and girls interested in creating a better home, school, and community environment.

The highlight of each year is the Model General Assembly Convention held in Richmond. Students from Virginia Hi-Y — Tri-Hi-Y Clubs meet at the capitol building in Richmond and assume the offices of Senators, Delegates, Lobbyists, Pages, etc. and introduce bills which will be passed or defeated during the convention. The bills passed in the Model General Assembly are presented to our own Virginia General Assembly and there the General Assembly might possibly pass the bills into Virginia State Laws.

The SCO is an active club in school. All members work together in order to accomplish the needs of the student body and community. Under the leadership of Terri Patty the SCO had a Turkey Shoot for Field Day which brought in 130 dollars. Some members collected money for UNICEF to bring in a total of $40 to help solve the starvation problem of the world. Even the small amount of money which was brought in at bake sales helped the SCO to function properly and have a successful year.

At Field Day the Beta Club had a game room sponsored by Karen Schell. Beta Club planned many spring projects for the school and the community. An amendment committee was added to insure the clubs improvement in the future years at NSA. New members were taped in December and April. Even though it was Mrs. Pat House's 1st year as sponsor, she certainly did a good job.

The 1978 Varsity Softball team had a good season even though their losses out numbered their wins. Coach Dale Wilson enjoyed coaching the girls and learned a lot from this season to benefit the next years team. Three of this years girls are Seniors: Debbie Brashier, Tina Keyt, and Pam Temples. This years MVP was Terri Patty, a junior. Pitchers will be the main scout for Coach Wilson due to Mary Stroud's injury and a shortage of capable and skilled girls.

With a total of 5-8-1 for the season, the Saints hope to improve their skills for the coming year. Coach Wilson says she is looking forward to coaching next year and hopes her team can beat IWA in both games and take the school to a VAAC championship.

J.V. SAINTS DO IT WELL

The J.V. Softball team did a great job this season. Coach Betty Jean Riddick enjoyed coaching everyone. Miss Riddick says the only thing she doesn't like is losing her Sophomore players to the varsity coach.

BASEBALL EASTERN

The 1977-78 Baseball Season was outstanding for N-SA. The Saints captured the Eastern Division title and second place in the state. The record was 14-3. All losses were by only one run. Pitcher Ricky Eure was M.V.P. with a 9-1 record. Jamie Daughtrey, Ricky Eure, and John Bangley made all conference.

For the Saints football players of 1978 practice started early on August 10th. Every day consisted of two practices which lasted for two hours each. This year's team was described by one newspaper as having "unified determination." This may be the reason for its 11-0 undefeated season. The football team has steadily progressed each season at N-SA under the leadership of Coach Terry Crigger. Although it was the smallest yet most determined team ever at N-SA, they outscored their opponents 378-36 and won the title of VAAC football champions for 1978. The Saints christened the new football field with a fantastic season.

SUPER SAINTS WIN

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

The girls basketball team reached its goal this season by being both the VAAC eastern division champions and the state champions. Through hard work, team play and superb coaching, the Saints captured tremendous victories over unyielding opponents.

Practicing long, hard hours beginning in late August, ten dedicated players proved to everyone else what they had known all along, that they were number one. Under the direction of third year coach Betty Jean Riddick, the Saints won their conference title with a 7-1 record and went into the play-offs confident of victory and settling for nothing less. Conquering an obstinate Prince Edward team, the Saints went on to meet York Academy, a team they had beaten twice before in conference play.

As the excitement of the championship game arose the Saints crushed York with a 50-46 victory. After the final game there was no doubt as to who was the number one girls' basketball team in the state.

For the second time in the past three years, the NS-A basketball squad reigned as champions of the Virginia Academies Athletic Conference. The title was attained at Ashland's Randolph-Macon College at the annual VAAC Tournament.

The Saints polished off York (60-56) and Southampton (60-52) to gain their championship and end their season with a 23-8 record.

Steve Carroll (13 points per game) and Joey Holland (17 points per game) earned all-conference honors for the Saints, while Carroll and John Bangley gained all-tournament spots.

Other starters during the course of the season included Steve Laine, Richard Wentz, and Andy Chapman.

LOWER SCHOOL AND

Girls Sixth and Seventh Grade Basketball Team

Under the leadership of Mr. Dicky Griffin, 8th grade boys learn to sharpen their basic skills and have the opportunity to experience team competition. Each boy worked hard in hope of having a superstar team in years to come.

The 6th and 7th grade basketball teams help young people learn the basic rules and regulations of basketball. The boys team, coached by Mr. Carson, begin to play together in an organized manner and seek the excitement of competing against other teams. The girls team, with the guidance of Miss Riddick, organize and compete against teams in preparation for future years. Both teams work and play hard and have a great time doing it.

There are twenty girls at this school who devote over half the year to helping the Saints gain their victories. These are the N-SA cheerleaders.

To be a cheerleader you must have a lot of co-operation, hard work, and a ready smile. These girls are the ones who keep up the spirit even when the rest of us may be down.

Cheering begins with spring try-outs, summer camp and lots of practice. But when the first game arrives they all work for one goal, a winning season.

Even though the bus trips get a little tiring and the practices a little long, the cheerleaders never seem to lose their spirit.

And, after the last game, there is sadness but there is also a lot of very happy memories.

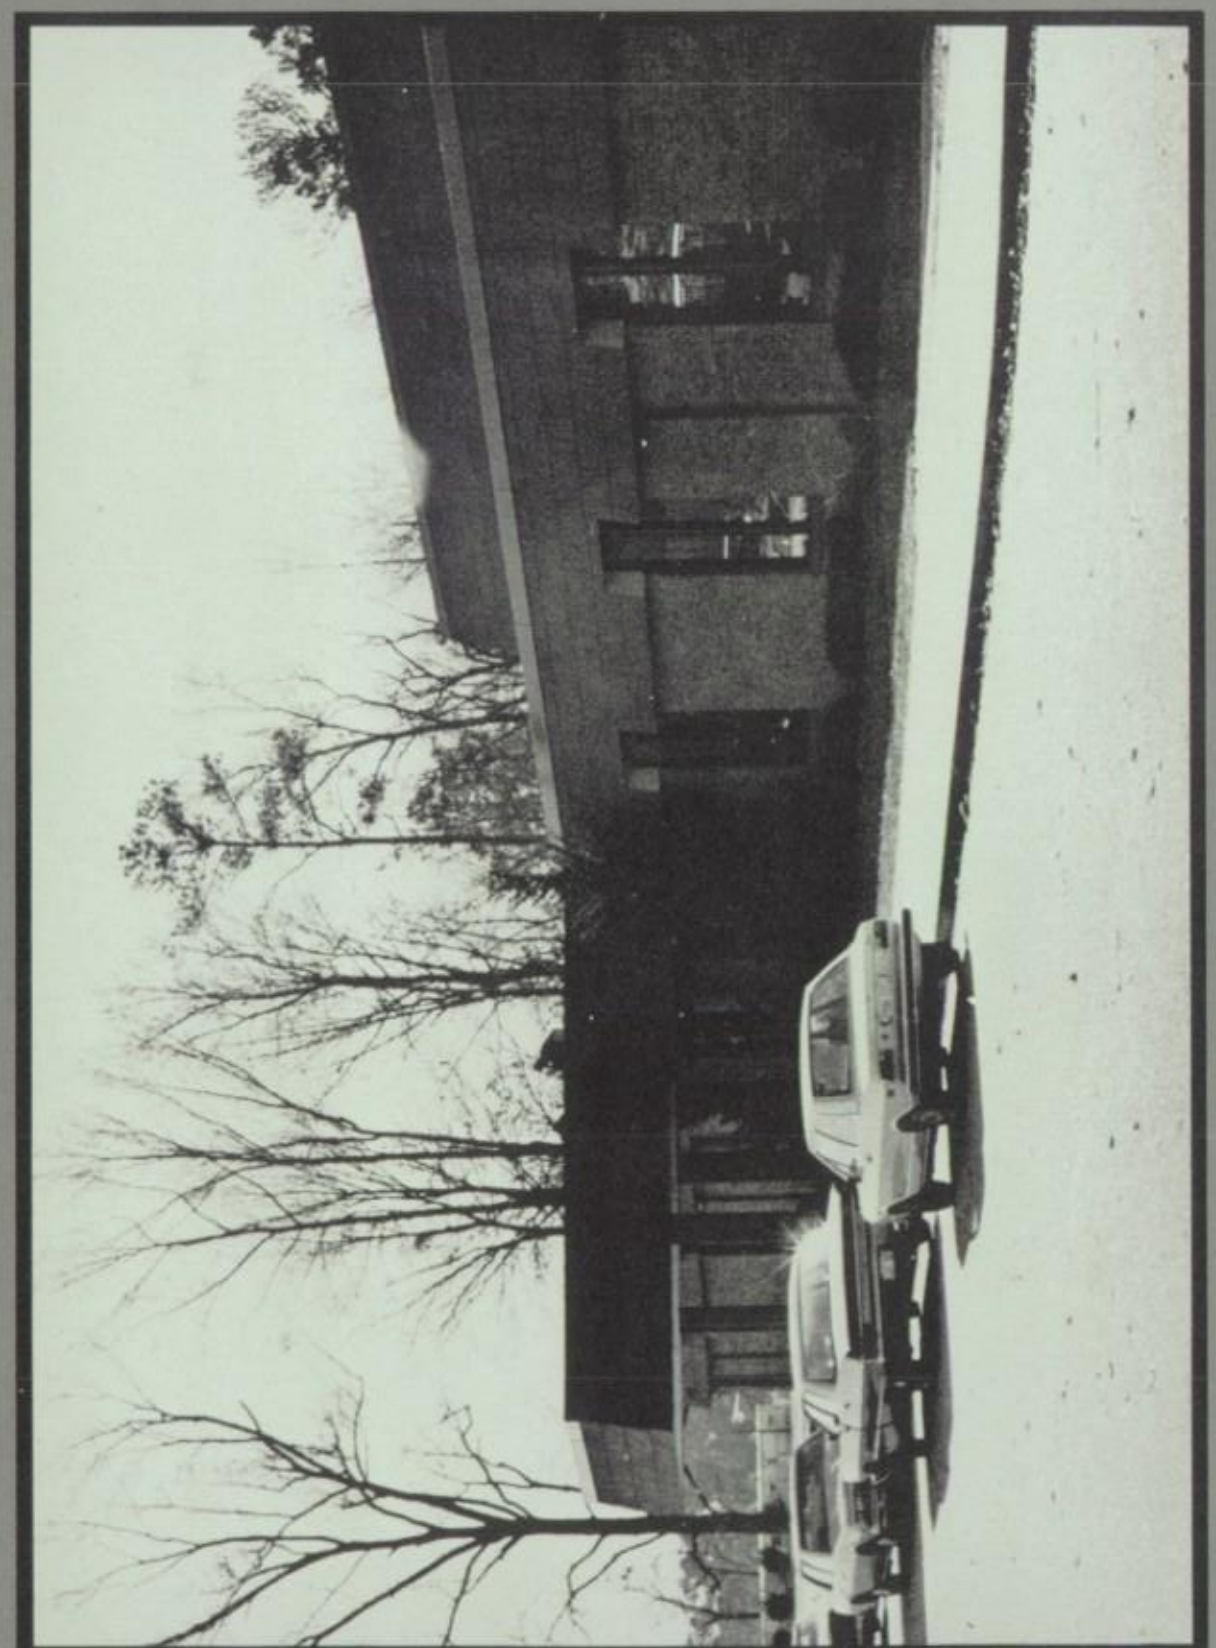
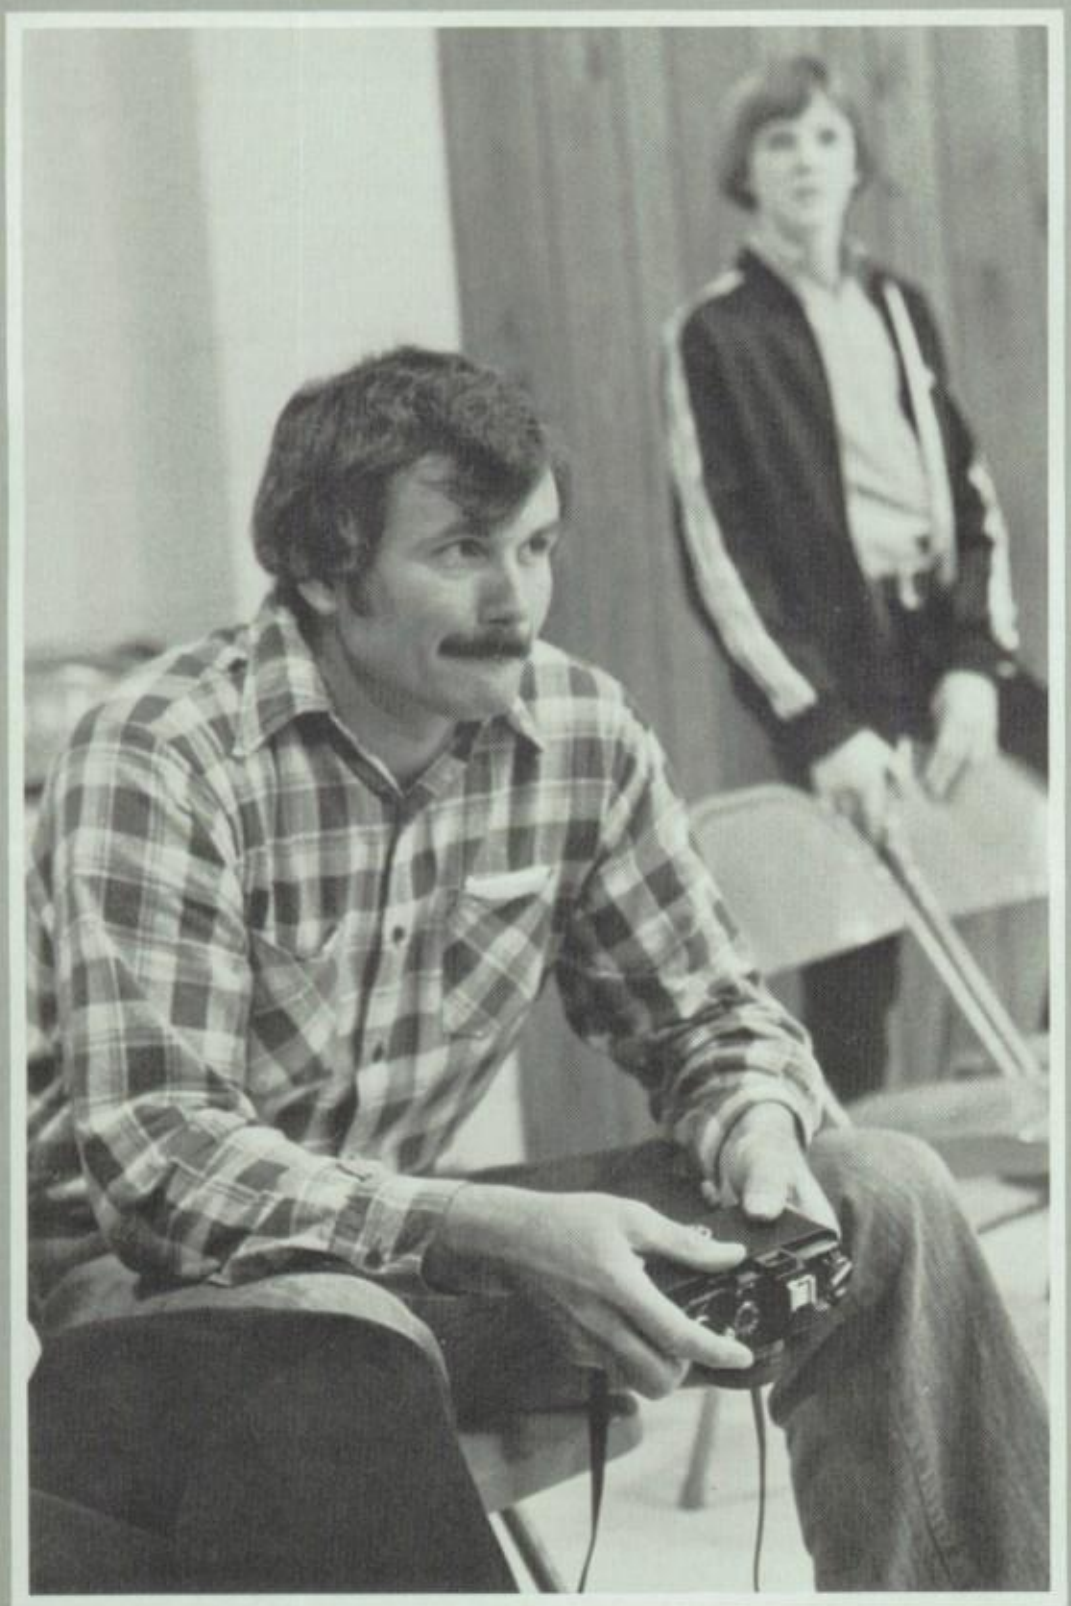
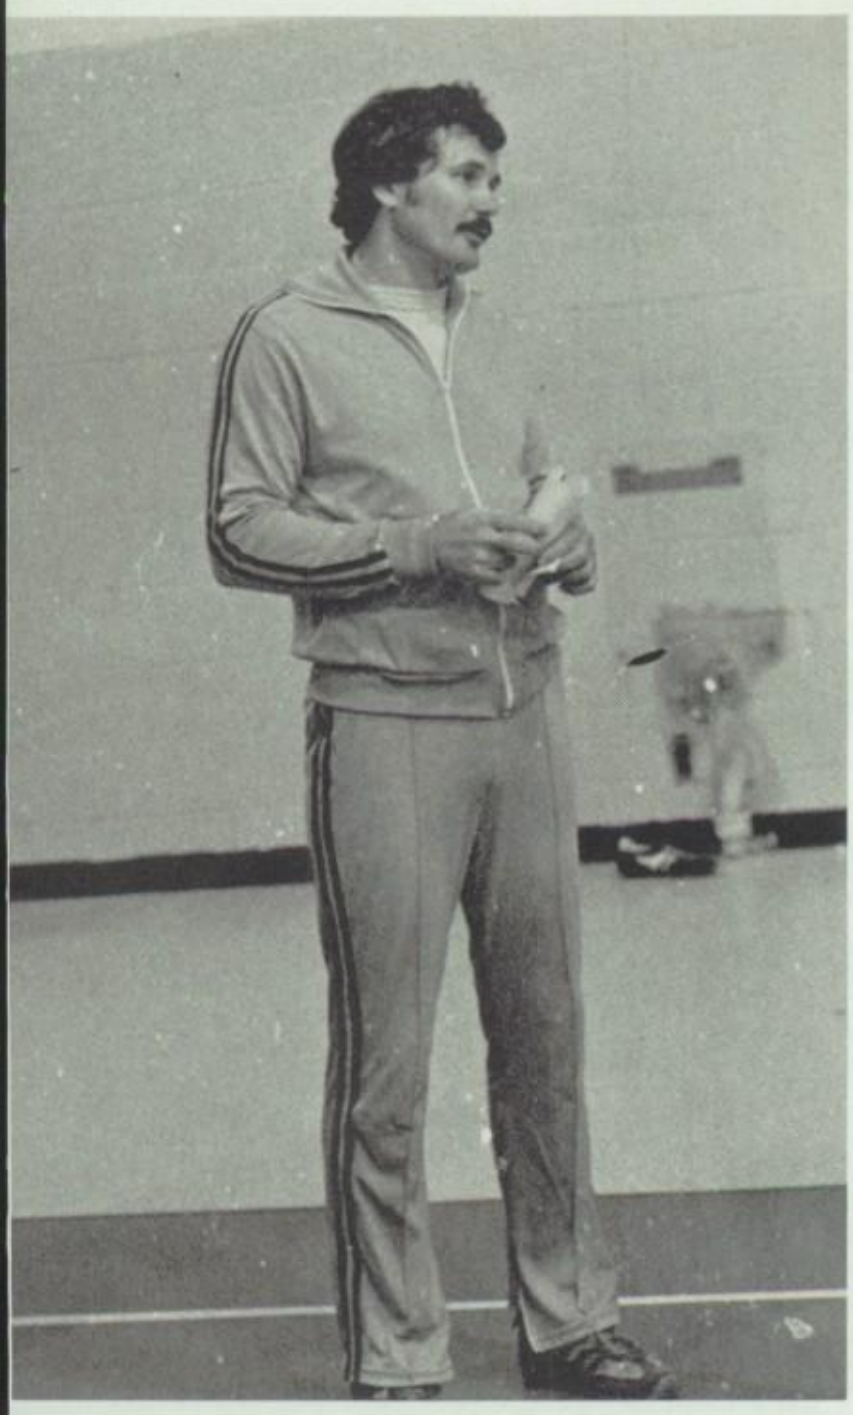
UPPER SCHOOL







He can only be described as a man for all seasons — and reasons!

Interest, concern and enthusiasm for any task are his hallmarks. Early mornings, late afternoon, in the classroom or on a field he is involved. In some measure he has touched the daily lives of all N.SA students as a personal friend, teacher or coach.

On the playing field, a championship team is simply the by product of his unselfish dedication to his players. In quite subtle way he manages to create in all his players the desire to establish personal goals of achievement and then to strive to achieve them.

More important however than his role in the classroom or playing field is the example of character, integrity and responsibility that he has provided us with during our high school years. In our changing society he is truly a man who practices what he preaches and lives by what he teaches!

With genuine respect, admiration and much affection we dedicate the 1979 Scroll to Mr. Terry Crigger.

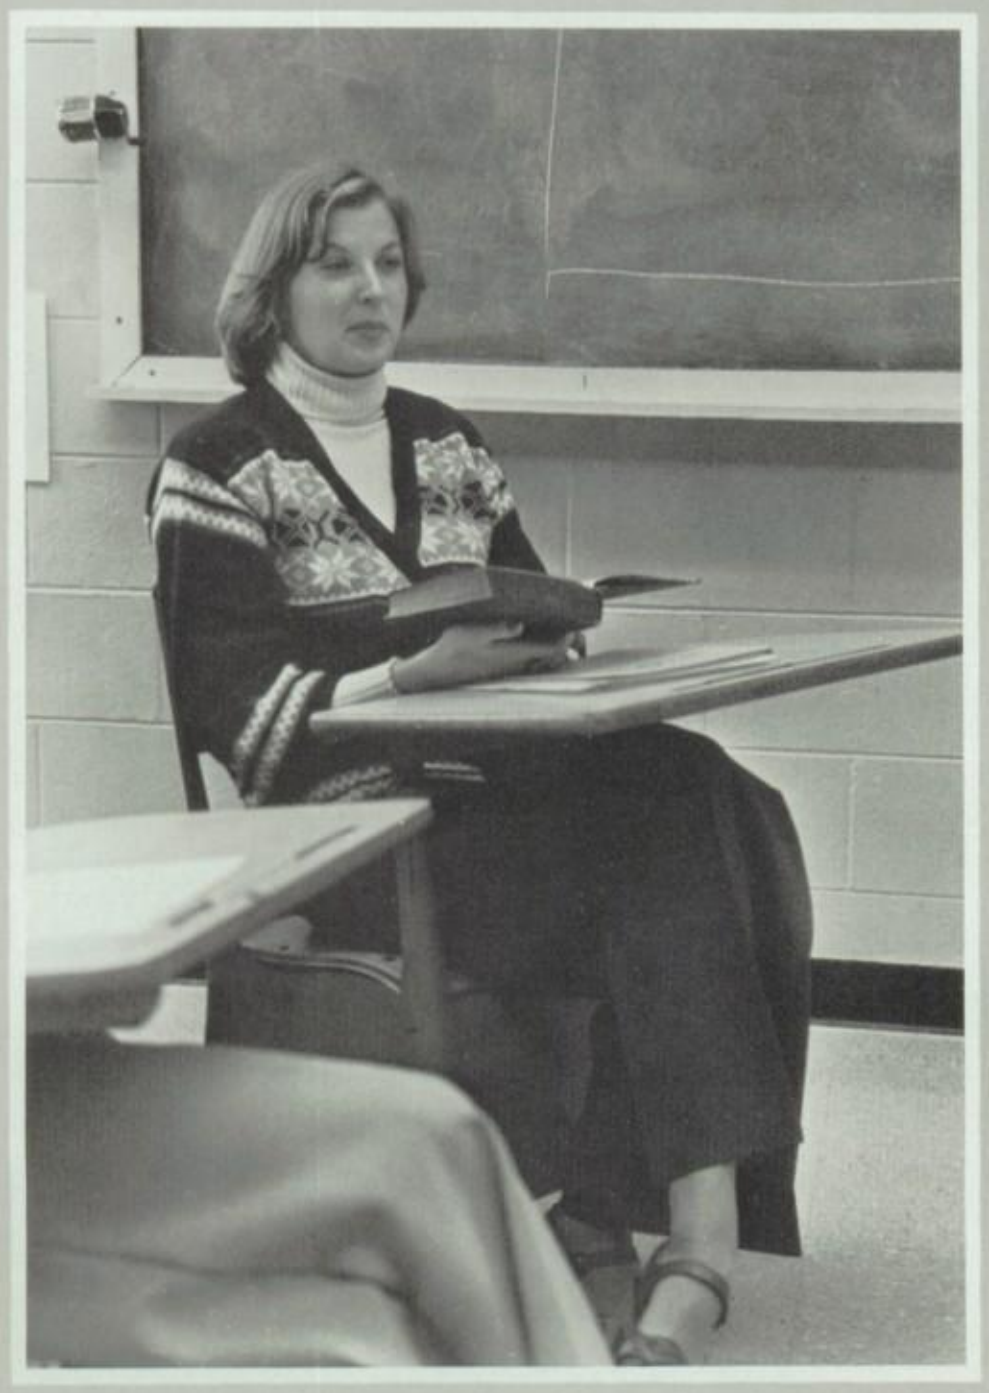
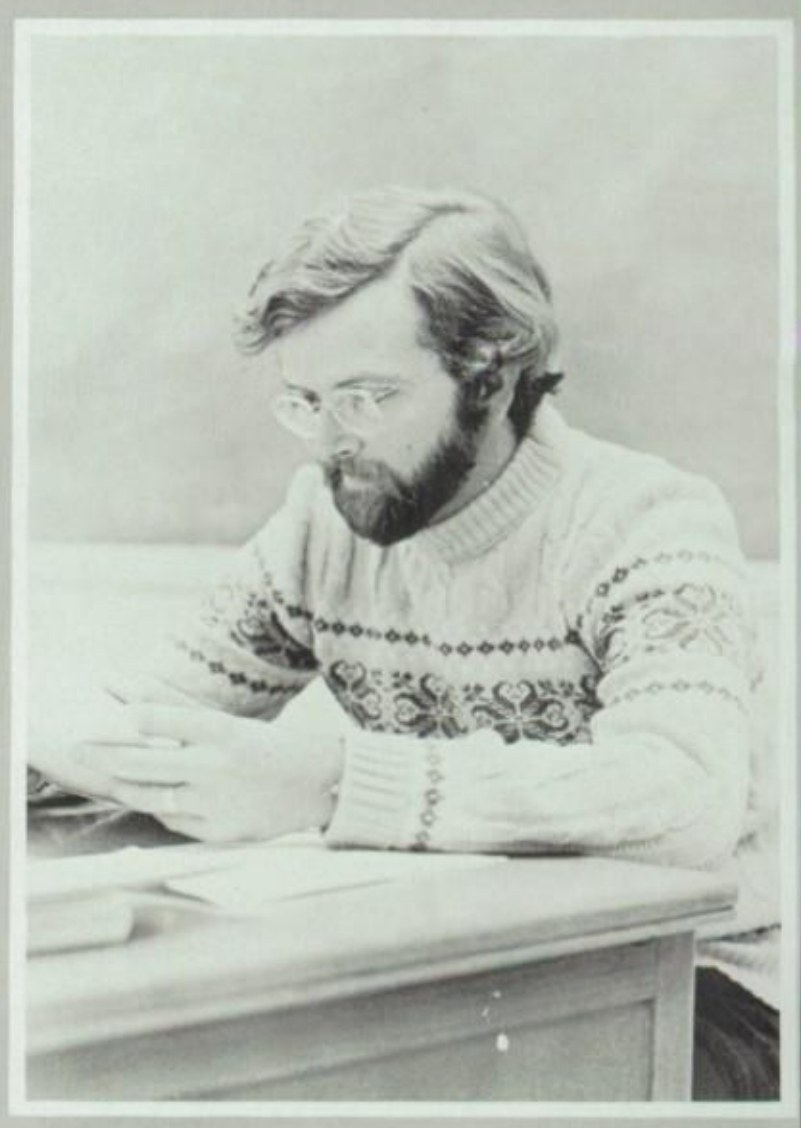
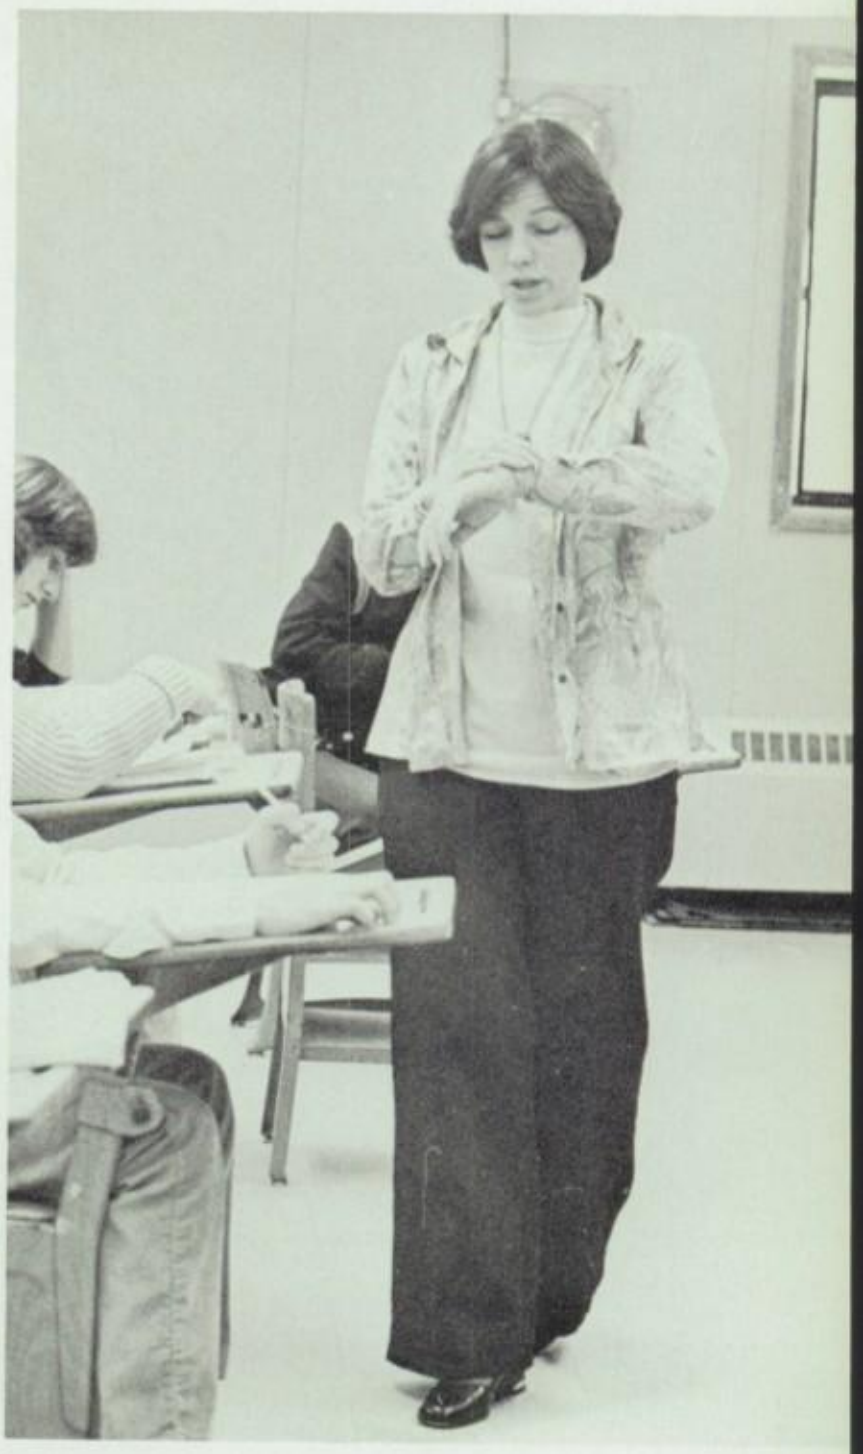
A BREAK FOR TEACHERS



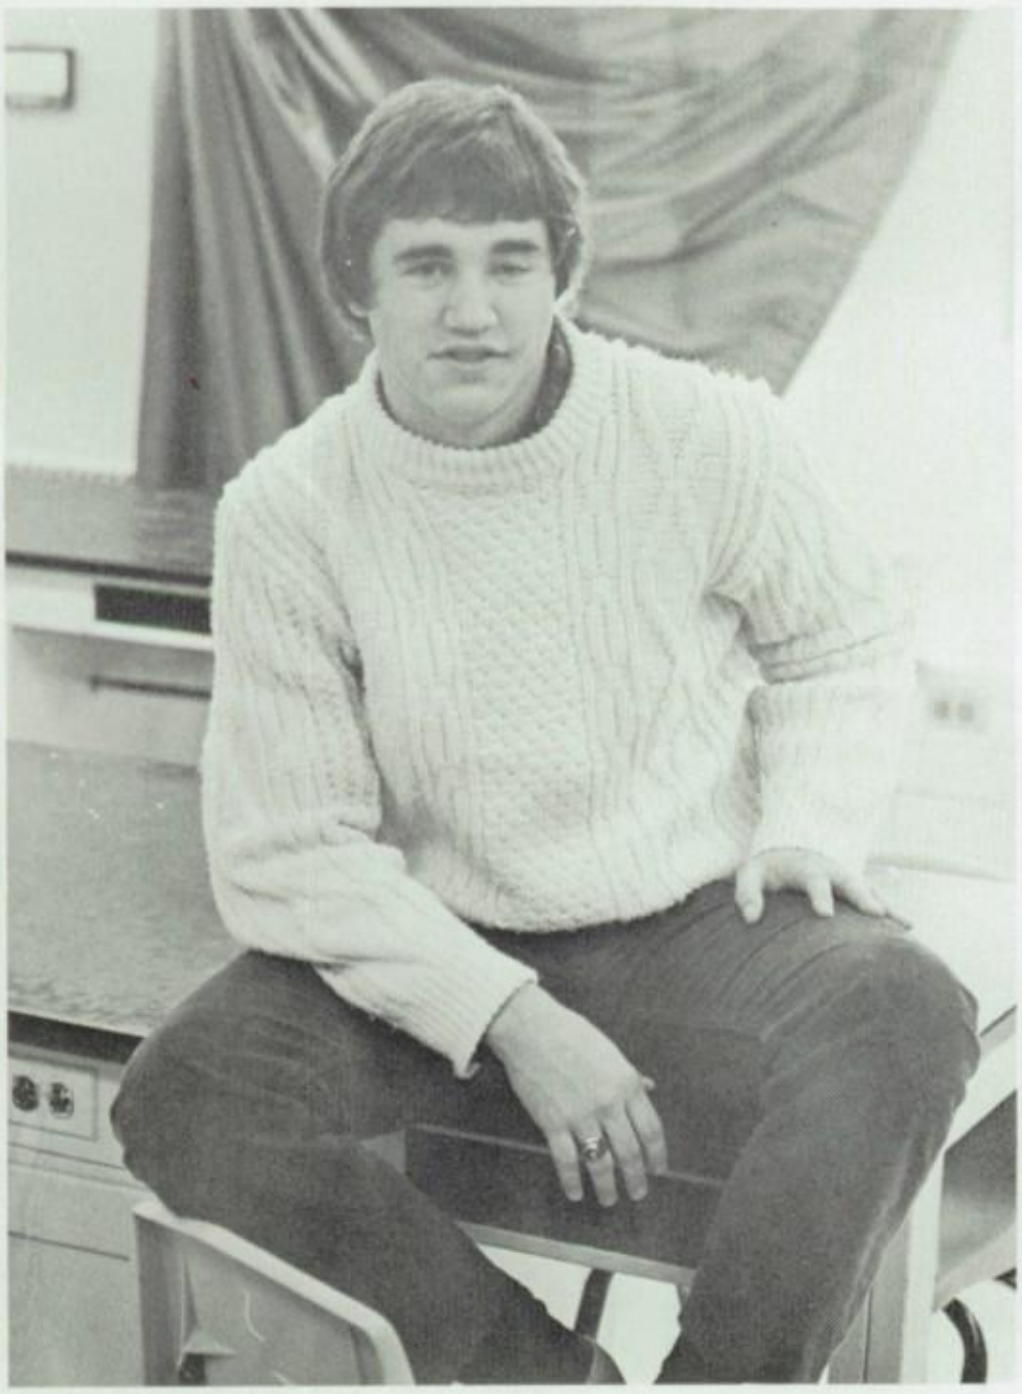




OF '79

Andy Chapman works hard on calculus so he will not have to take the exam.

WISE & FINE



The Thetamore year was the first year of high school for these students. A lot of studying and tests occupied their minds. It was a hard time learning names and faces, but they all grew together as "Saints". Each discovered what high school was all about that year, but they could not yet imagine themselves as Seniors. The Freshman year seemed to be a flop, but during the Sophomore year everyone pulled through at the Homecoming pep rally and beat the Class of '78, also winning the hall poster competition. The best things to remember about the Sophomore year were the 76 driver's licenses earned by many eager students. The Junior year brought many close friendships for all the hard work that had to be put out for bake sales, concessions, and cookie sales. It was all worth it because the school had its best prom ever. "SAIL AWAY" created a beautiful dream-world for every Junior that will always bring wonderful warm memories. Class rings also brightened up the lives of the Juniors, but it also emptied some parents pockets. With the trip to Williamsburg, everyone learned a new side of history. All these years prepared the students for their hardest and most enjoyable year. The Senior year was a lot of work and a lot of time was spent studying to try and make that 90 average to be exempt from those exams. The athletic events, parties, dances, and trips will always be a part of these students as they forge ahead to form productive lives for themselves. Life seems to end on that last day of school, but when they turn around, they see the many bridges and obstacles they must challenge and overcome. Each will do it in their own way and make bigger accomplishments than were ever dreamed. The memories of these students will always hold a part of N-SA, returning many times to reminisce. But the school will remember, before this Senior class left, how the halls used to shine from the Class of '79.

Some say our class can be easily outdone,
This may be true in their minds but not to everyone.
It takes many people to make up a class,
Individuals coming together to form
a strong mass.
Each person expressing himself in his own way,
Each one contributing to the whole
by pursuing his interests, wherever they may.
Together we've worked closely to make the best of what we had,
We've learned about responsibility, disappointment, compromise and respect,
And hopefully we've gained knowledge about what to expect.
Millions of special moments will live
forever in our minds,
We'll always have a bond between us,
even if our roads never again
intertwine.
Even though at times all we did was fight and fuss,
There is no doubt we'll all still be leaving something very special behind us.
Never again shall someone venture to say
That our class did not proceed in a successful way.
We must have come together somehow or someway
Because we made it, we're here,
We are certainly one of a kind,
And EACH one of us is special for being a member of the CLASS OF '79

HAVE CLASS

Kim Woo twirls her baton at half time.

Lori and Melissa goof off in French class.

As each year goes by, each year gets better. This has definitely been one of the best for the Junior Class. They did the traditional things all Juniors do; ordered class rings in September, raised five-hundred dollars with their Penny Arcade at Field Day, ran concessions at all home basketball games, and sold cookies at Christmas

They also chose their representatives for Maid of Honor at Homecoming. Pixie Presson, Melissa Darden, and Tali Debnam had the most votes.

Now the end is here, and they have grown and matured even more. But most of all, they will remember their Junior year in which they all united for a common goal; their Junior-Senior Prom.

The Sophomore Class finds itself at the end of another year. Faced with new ideas and responsibilities they strove for a successful year.

FRESHMEN MOVE AHEAD

The Freshmen class is adjusting to high school after a successful Thetamore year. They are beginning to realize that high school is important. Also, they are trying to raise money for their class. For Field Day they had a "guess the peanuts" booth to give away a ten-speed bike. They worked hard on their homecoming float and hall competition. They realize that it is a lot of hard work to high school but a lot of fun comes out in the end.

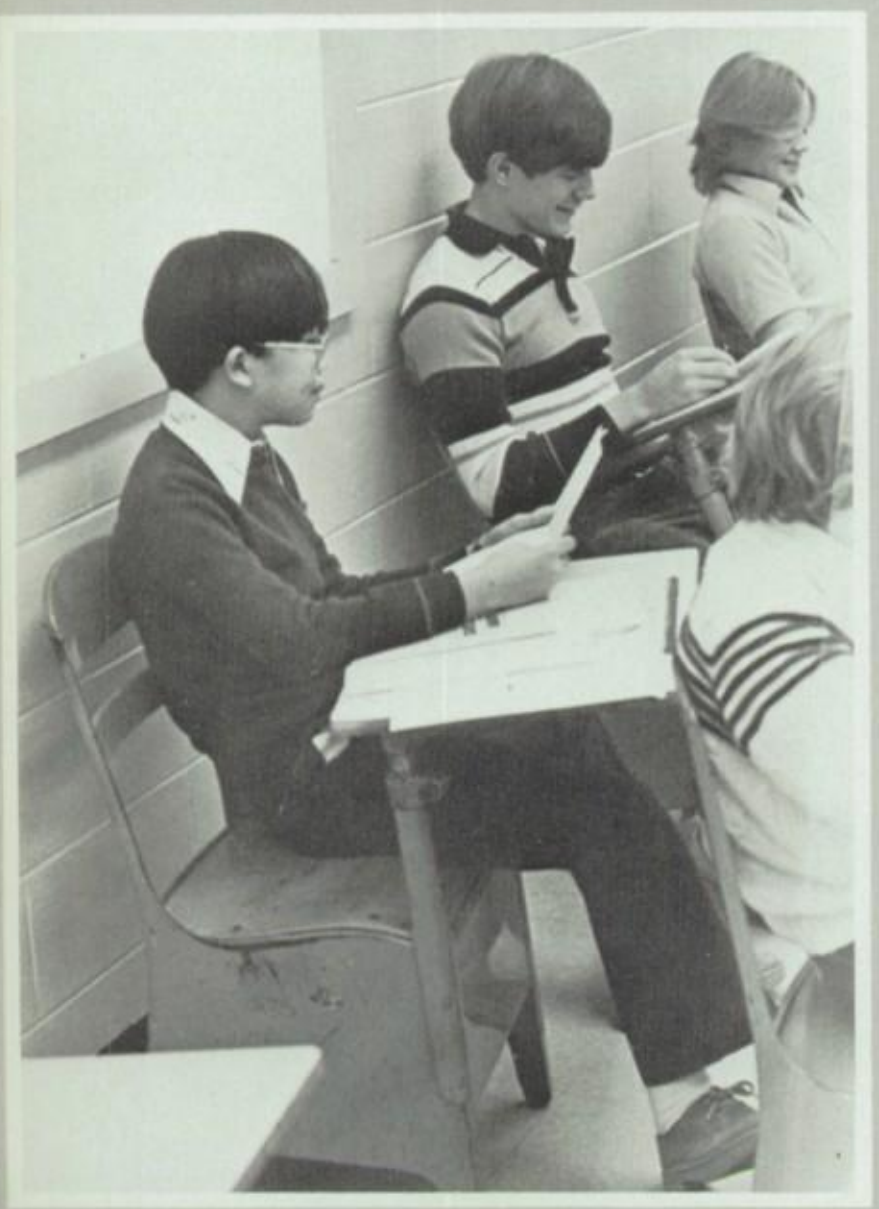
THETAMORES ADJUST



Henry Su checks his homework.

It was hard at first trying to adapt to the changes and more responsibilities but soon the thetamores fell into the right pattern. They started participating in many high school activities. The eighth graders contributed much to Junior Varsity sports and added two cheerleaders to the cheering squad. Those who chose not to participate in sports joined clubs. On Field Day they sold hamsters and cokes which added to their treasury. They also won the raffle ticket competition. Their first year of participation in homecoming was an exciting time. The float they entered was "Confetti the Confederates" and they enjoyed having representatives on the homecoming court. The thetamores showed their spirit at pep rallies and sport events. Bonjour, Bueno dias, and Guten Tog became greetings in the halls since the majority of eighth graders took a language course. Algebra also proved to be an interesting math. The eighth graders became accustomed to the upper school gym instead of the cafeteria which was used for the lower school dances. All in all the year proved to be very prosperous for the thetamores.

KINDERGARTEN — TAKING

Four and five year olds are a bit apprehensive about being a part of such a large school. However, they are soon feeling at home here and eager to learn and take part in school activities.

During their first year at the Academy, kindergarten children show much growth socially, physically, and intellectually. They learn skills and functions that will insure their readiness for first grade.

Being in first grade is an exciting adventure! Six year olds are eager and willing to learn about everything.

Learning to read is a big thrill for every girl and boy. Many discoveries are made throughout the day with this new skill — "That sign says STOP!" How proud and important one feels when he can read to his classmates.

Working together and learning to work independently, teaches the first grader proper work habits that will be of help throughout his/her school life.

Discovering and developing abilities that boys and girls possess is a continuing process that occurs throughout the year.

Working, playing and sharing with each other makes the first grade at N-SA very special.

The fourth grade is highlighted by its study of Virginia history. Filmstrips, reports, projects and especially field trips to Jamestown, Williamsburg and Yorktown. Fourth graders are very enthusiastic about the study of science. They enjoy making the various projects that contribute to their understanding of plant and animal life, the solar system and the human body. In preparation for the next few years, fourth graders change classes for the first time in their reading groups. This gives each student the opportunity to get to know other fourth grade teachers as well as learning to read at his own pace.

Fifth graders are eager to participate in class.

The fifth graders have had a busy year with a variety of activities. They, along with the sixth graders, were invited to attend Suffolk's first Harvest Festival. Their usual reading, writing, and Arithmetic were supplemented by history-discovery, settlement, and growth of the New World and also science, from the simple cell to the vast universe. For the first time, they elected representatives to the S.C.O. Special treats for all were the parties at Christmas and on Valentines Day. Some were awarded certificates of honor by the DAR Society.

SIXTH

Sixth grade marks a big step for our N.S.A. Lower School students. Changing classes, lockers, and getting to P.E. on time are real challenges!

An emphasis is placed on increasing skills necessary for academic progress.

Trips to Chrysler Museum, the planetarium, etc. provide an opportunity to enrich and expand learning.

As our little Saints grow up they are also able to participate in the clubs and activities and enjoy their first dance.

The Seventh graders have finally arrived. As the "Seniors" of the Lower School, they are busy polishing and refining their skills and knowledge before they enter the Upper School.

Mini courses are a part of their schedules which give them an opportunity to discover new interests and abilities. A trip to the Smithsonion is a memorable event.

Social activities and clubs have become an important part of their school life as they take on the leadership of the S.C.O.

Our seventh graders are ready to take the big step into high school.

As the year passes by and we say good-bye to our Friends, we think of all the memories we have of our times together. But then we also remember the battles we fought and all the challenges we overcame we sometimes got through. And then we think of this future, of new friends, new challenges and still more memories to come
